Jury Charges Face S.M. Supervisors

San Mateo county's grand jury put District Attorney Keith Sorenson squarely on the spot Wednesday night when they made formal accusations against the five county supervisors and the county manager for alleged "willful misconduct in office" in the handling of road funds. The officials would face removal from office if the charges are upheld.

The grand jury made its case clear Monday when it instructed Sorenson to "take any action prescribed by law" against former county Engineer M. A. (Cap) Grant, who over an 18-year span spent some $725,000 for roads without authorization from supervisors.

At the same time, the jury recommended action against supervisors and County Manager E. R. Stallings for their part in the Grant case.

"No Legal Basis"

Sorenson, however, balked at the jury's instructions, stating that "there was not sufficient legal basis to warrant an accusation against the board for willful misconduct."

Grand Jury Foreman Ray Higgins earlier this week sought aid of the state attorney general's office, because of Sorenson's refusal to press the accusations. Although the attorney general's office claimed it had not had time to study auditors reports and present a recommendation, the jury proceeded Wednesday to present formal accusations against the board and Stallings.

Accusations listed the following specific counts: failure to classify road work in the county according to priority indicated by traffic counts, as demanded by the county charter; expenditures in excess of appropriations on specific road projects; "failure to control and supervise financial affairs of the county, particularly in the county road department."

Serra Freeway Plans 'Still In A Muddle'

The Junipero Serra freeway plans through Daly City were reviewed by city representatives yesterday.

That is, some half dozen "very tentative" alternate routes were discussed.

From the outcome of the meeting with B. W. Booker, assistant state highway engineer, interested parties will have to wait for public hearings some six months hence to glean the slightest knowledge of just what fate the state does plan for Daly City.

"Everything is still in a muddle," said Councilman Sanford Vickers, who attended the meeting with Mayor Joseph Verducci, Councilman Del Wilson, City Manager Howard Stites and Public Works Director Otis Calhoun, said the state at present is "not prepared to issue any type of concrete plan."

Merchants and property owners along the area to be affected have anxiously awaited some specific designa-

'Roadblock' In Quest For SF Land

A last-minute change of policy by the state has roadblocked Jefferson Elementary school district's purchase of a full 10-acre school site for the new General Pershing plant.

The "time bomb" came this week in the form of a "short note" from John Peirce, state department of finance, to the SF board of education. It surprisingly said that the state would give the Daly City board no money for the Pershing site until a "mutually satisfactory settlement" could be worked out with SF officials.

Peirce's statement thus awkwardly erased the recent

McKeon Says He'll Start Grading New Tract In 45 Days

Developer George McKeon of the Zita Corporation told councilmen Wednesday that his firm would start grading on the new 1600-home St. Francis Heights subdivision within 45 days after final maps are approved.

Councilmen reviewed tentative maps of the project and are expected to approve them Monday.

The Edgemar road relocation off Junipero Serra will be determined before final maps are submitted, McKeon said. Exact route of the realignment depends on what builder Michael Callan does with his parcel of property adjacent to the McKeon development.

McKeon said his firm would have final maps prepared "very soon" and expected to be building homes in the "immediate" future.

COUNCIL SELECTION SNAGGED AS HUPF NAMED ATTORNEY

Hupf Wins Post Over 7 Others

Paul Hupf, a councilman here since 1956, was named city attorney late last week by the council and sworn into office Monday.

Hupf, 35, a resident of 648 N. Mayfair, will take over the position previously held by Frank Blum, newly-appointed superior judge.

Naming of Hupf's council replacement, who will serve until April, 1960, was debated by the city council in an informal session Monday and was scheduled to be firmed Wednesday night at study session.

Hupf's appointment came Thursday after several hours of debate and consideration of

Selection Of 'Unknown' Is Possible

Speculation mounted today as tense negotiations to appoint a councilman to replace Paul Hupf, newly-named city attorney, continued into the second week.

Councilmen met Monday and traded names but could not resolve the issue and parleyed unsuccessfully again Wednesday night following the study session.

A wide-open field of some 12 names was reported considered earlier, but the choices have now been narrowed down to four candidates.

Two candidates are believed to each have the backing of two councilmen, but the deadlock comes on the all-important third vote.

Councilman Del Wilson remarked Wednesday that, "The way we're going, we'll never appoint anybody." The council has until October 14 to make the appointment. If the selection is not made by then, a special election must be called to fill Hupf's unexpired term, which runs until April, 1960.

With failure of the council to agree on the more prominently mentioned names, observers speculated that the council might select a political "unknown" as a compromise candidate.

Amputee ARTHUR BASTIAN, 72, of Westlake, wound up in county jail this week after pleading guilty to writing some $235 in bad checks at a local store in July.

Things are pretty crowded at the county clink so jail trustie JAMES BROUGHTON of Millbrae gave up his bed so Bastian wouldn't have to sleep in his wheelchair.

Broughton can understand Bastian's plight. Broughton is serving a one-year term for passing fictitious checks.

$15,000 NEST EGG?

Treasurer Pay Withheld

City Treasurer Paul Selmi took a month's leave of absence last February and so far it has cost him almost $3000 in salary.

A suit to obtain the money which Selmi says is due him may be filed soon.

Selmi, who earns $400 a month as full-time city treasurer, an elective office, took a leave of absence February 18 to be in Minneapolis with his son, Eugene, who was undergoing treatment for a serious heart ailment. The youth died on March 25, following surgery.

The treasurer claims he returned to duty shortly after that. The city holds that he is not officially back on the job until he formally notifies the city finance department. Selmi, long a foe of the present administration, has steadfastly refused to write any such notification, claiming, "You don't vacate an elective office unless you resign. When I left all I asked was to have a clerk in there to handle some of the work while I was gone."

The clerk, who is paid $270 a month, is still there. Selmi, also is still there but for the past seven months has been working for gratis. He still carries on his normal duties as city treasurer, signing checks and making bank deposits.

In a stand made in early June, the council decided to refuse payment of salary to Selmi until he filed the written notification of his return to work. The council's attitude has not changed since then. "Let him make the first move," Mayor Joseph Verducci commented earlier.

Selmi says he definitely contemplates legal action. And the back salary keeps piling up.

Neither Selmi nor the council appear ready to relinquish their stand for anything short of a court edict.

Since Selmi's term has until 1960 to run, a quick calculation shows he will have a nest egg of about $15,000 by that time.

'Marksmen' Nabbed In Westlake

Two San Francisco men were arrested here Wednesday morning after their rifle-shooting target practice off the Coast Highway endangered the lives of many residents in the Palisades section of Westlake.

Police booked Robert Collins, 23, and George Yasser, 25, for violation of the city ordinance on firearms.

Charles Clark, of 295 Avalon drive, summoned officers with the report that a bullet had richocheted off his car as he was washing it. He said he heard at least 10 more bullets whiz over his head.

Several frantic mothers in the same area called in the same information.

Collins admitted he fired about 24 rounds and Yasser confirmed that he had taken six shots. Their companion, Robert Galbillo, was not booked because he did not handle the rifle, officers said.

The San Francisco pair are due in court next Thursday. They were released on $100 bond.

Good Start Brings Praise For Westmoor

High school trustees Monday night roundly praised Principal Glenn South, his faculty and classified workers, for getting new Westmoor High off to a successful though rocky start last week.

Although the school is only 90 percent structurally complete and lacks 30 percent of its equipment, Supt. Ed Morgan and South opened the plant on September 10. Students and faculty, rather than face temporary double sessions at crowded Jefferson High, are "making the best of it" while workers are applying the finishing touches on the Westlake plant.

Late October

Morgan said the new school should be officially complete within a month, according to the latest report of the contractor, Dick Meyer.

Meyer, citing shortage of competent workers and materials, plus labor strikes, has indicated he will ask trustees for an additional 189-day extension of contract over the June 24 deadline.

The contractor, using similar reasons for the delay last January, was granted an 124-day extension and was to deliver the entire plant June 24.

Morgan said the new request to be considered when Meyer declares the project complete, "Must be well documented."

Challenge Reasons

Trustees Monday night didn't appear too willing to swallow Meyer's latest excuses in full, challenging several of his reasons for the 189-day exten-

Citizens Protest Doelger Zoning For Apartments

Proposed rezoning of residential Westlake property to R-3 status to make way for an apartment development drew fire from some 25 Westlake residents Tuesday before the Daly City planning commission.

Henry Doelger Builder Inc. has asked that property at the end of Fairlawn court and a portion on Southgate be zoned R-3. A portion of the land is now in R-1 classification, while the remainder is C-1. The apartments would be located adjacent to the new post office.

The Westlake residents protested rezoning the residential parcel for construction of apartments.

Planners postponed recommendation on the rezoning until the October 8 meeting.

Tentative maps of the 1600-home St. Francis Heights subdivision won planners approval. Final map will have to be approved before the subdivision plans are submitted to the council.

SSF Councilman Blasts County On Appointments

Councilman Leo Ryan of South San Francisco, hammering home the charge that the north end of San Mateo county is "without adequate and just representation," continued the battle against the county's antiquated charter and "unfair" method of electing supervisors here Wednesday night.

A member of the Charter Study Committee, Ryan lashed the method of appointments to the committee, graphically showing that eight areas of the county, most of these in the north end, including Daly City, (the county's fourth largest municipality) do not have a representative on the committee.

Ryan made his remarks as guest speaker before the North End Democrats at Westlake school.

Ryan reminded, " . . . the most basic reason for the formation of the group stems from the growing inequity in representation on the Board of Supervisors based on present population."

"The current pattern of appointments would seem to preclude that recommendations from this committee would tend to overlook the very problem which has caused this committee to be created—the fact that the north end isn't represented on a equal basis."

Ryan said the 20-member charter committee is dominated by representatives of the south

PUBLIC HEARING ON CIVIL SERVICE RULES, REGULATIONS

LAST OF AN ERA

Dogcatcher Lost To Navy

By Roy Hurlbert

On Friday the 13th a dastardly deed dawned in Daly City.

A "prominent city official" called it quits, packing his unmentionables for a tour in the U. S. Navy.

So, doggonit, the town lost it's poundmaster.

Really wasn't a tragedy. What happened was that Bob Galindo, all 18 years of him, enlisted as a Bluejacket. He therewith forsook his short-lived municipal prestige as boss of the city's stray cats and canines.

Gravy Train?

Pretty sizeable effort. City brass don't like to get off the gravy train and leave the political pulpit. Galindo didn't blink an eye. He was one of the spokes, not a wheel.

Bob, who skied away to San Diego for his booting around, wasn't long for the world, anyway. He took over as dogcatcher only two weeks ago when veteran Charlie Maschinot left to become a

4. Set hearing October 8 on application of Vincent Merlo to rezone property on Vendome to R-3 for construction of eight apartment units.

5. Recommended granting of use permit to Gino Baldocchi to construct cocktail lounge on Lot 6, Block 23, Union Park subdivision, on Mission street. Boldocchi will move his present establishment to that lot.

6. Approved variance for Romolo Blasi to enlarge store and construct single family dwelling on the second story of his present property on Bellevue avenue.

Members of the committee include one supervisor, the d.a., the county manager, and four other citizens.

end by almost a 2-1 ratio.

"I am sure that all the people on this end of the county already look with great disfavor on the treatment we get from county and state authorities," he continued.

Ryan recommended that more north end representatives be appointed to the charter committee, and that this group and the Grand Jury study the possibility of redistricting the county according to population.

He added that supervisors should be elected by district instead of at large, and said that action should be taken to get the state legislature to raise the number of supervisors on the county board to seven.

action prescribed by law against Grant. This could mean a civil suit of $725,000 to collect the money spent without legal authorization by Grant over a period of years.

Sorenson, attending a convention of supervisors in Santa Rosa, could not be reached for comment.

One grand juror hinted that if Sorenson did not proceed with action against county officials with information supplied by the purists that Sorenson himself would be open for inquiry.

Meanwhile, E. Wenig of the attorney general's office is continuing his investigation of charges against supervisors but is not expected to report back for at least one month. Sorenson has indicated he would not represent either the jury or county officials if formal charges are brought by the attorney general.

Sorenson would not confirm whether it was he who asked that the attorney general be brought into the probe.

"Immediate Action"

"Our instructions are that Mr. Sorenson take immediate action on these accusations," said Higgins. "These accusations were not drawn up by Sorenson but by ourselves and actually constitute an indictment."

The accusations, which amount to a non-criminal charge, would result in removal of supervisors and Stallings from office if they are upheld in a superior court trial.

All Supervisors, with the exception of Thomas Callan Sr. of Colma, who is on an extended vacation to Europe, have been questioned by the grand jury in past months about their knowledge of the road expenditures, some 90 per cent of which were in the south county area.

'Not Faintest

One juror observed that the supervisors "didn't have the faintest idea of what was going on in their own government."

After resigning his engineer's post earlier this year, Grant was appointed a member of the county planning commission, an appointment grand jurors also consider extremely unusual.

Higgins remarked that, "They ought to kick him off the planning commission so fast it would make your head swim."

The entire transcript of the Grant investigation may be released, Higgins said. "If it's at all possible to release it, we will," the jury foreman revealed.

The five supervisors under fire are Callan, Edward R. McDonald, chairman; Alvin S. Hatch, William M. Werder and Martin Poss.

sion.

If trustees decide the second extension request is unjustified, they can enforce the penalty clause against the contractor. Thus Meyer would not be paid for any work after June 24.

Morgan said, however, that "trimming" the number of extensions days is more likely.

South said Westmoor enrollment Monday was 1202 students, with 86 more pupils who registered still to be heard from. John Mongan of Jefferson listed 1188 students at his school.

Everything went well at Westmoor opening day South said, although some confusion resulted from unmarked classrooms, lack of chairs, and an overcrowded and slow-getting-started cafeteria operation.

Improved Counselling

The Westmoor principal praised the district's new counseling procedure, which helped to eliminate the usual delays opening week. Students throughout the district this year will be able to avail themselves of regular counseling service, seriously restricted last year under double sessions at Jefferson.

South said Little Theater seats should be ready at Westmoor by mid-October. About half of the school's library furniture has yet to be installed, and several shops and science classrooms lack full equipment.

South and many of his certificated personnel have been working weekends to bring the plant up to par as equipment arrives.

Bus Pool Good

The bus pool, worked out with the Jefferson and Laguna Salada elementary districts and College of San Mateo is working smoothly, Morgan stated.

On recommendation of the superintendent, the board has called an immediate engineering survey to determine costs of grading, erosion control, and installation of curbs, gutters and sidewalks around Westmoor. Realignment of Edgemar road wll be worked out with the city, and builders George McKeon and Mike Callan.

Rushing plans for the first Coastside school in Sharp Park, the board authorized engineering surveys on the district's property east of Coast Highway. Within the next two months, trustees will select a fourth site in Linda Mar. They have visited the area many times and will be ready to open negotiations once full data is available on roads and future home developments there.

Jeff Report

Morgan said the long-awaited state engineering survey of ancient Jefferson should be in the board's hands by the end of this month. Renovation of subpar parts of the schools or abandonment of these areas in order to qualify for state aid to replace them are the alternatives.

In other business Monday, trustees:

1. In executive session, denied the request of Mrs. John Dennis, 262 Railroad avenue, for transfer of her daughter to Westmoor High. District policy requires all students living east of Junipero Serra to attend Jefferson.

2. Received a letter of commendation from James Tormey, county superintendent of schools, for the district's "outstanding" administrative code, adopted recently.

3. Tabled request of Westlake Episcopal church for rental of Westmoor High classrooms on Sundays. Superintendent suggested district formulate a cost for rental policy for both schools.

4. Awarded landscaping contract at Westmoor to Granvelle and McConnell of Palo Alto, the low bidder at $4155.58. The high bid amounted to $12,382, an unusual range.

some eight candidates for the $5200 a year attorney post.

Hupf's appointment was unanimous. Others considered for the job were: Thomas Gallen, John Putkey, V. P. Andersen, John Fahey, Bernard Etcheverry, Julian Cohn and Charles Becker.

Hupf submitted his official resignation as councilman shortly before being named city attorney.

He will serve in the attorney capacity for the first time at tonight's council meeting.

Hupf, a Marine Corps veteran of World War II, Pacific Theater, has a law practice in San Francisco but said he plans to move his headquarters to Daly City as soon as he can obtain office space.

He and his wife, Virginia, have two daughters. The new city attorney is active in the Westlake Catholic Men's club, is affiliated with veterans organizations and is a member of the Archdiocesan Council of Catholic Men.

He was elected to the council in 1956 with the second high vote total of 2550. He has been a resident here for approximately four years.

The council must name Hupf's replacement to the governing body by October 14 or call a special election to fill the unexpired term.

"okay" on the 10 acres given the Jefferson district by the state allocations board. The allocations people, by deadlocking 3-3 on San Francisco protest of the 10 acres (three of them in SF territory) appeared satisfied and Daly City trustees thought the matter was settled.

SF supervisors, who have blurted that they can't afford to lose any of the city's "meager land," may ask for a new hearing before the allocations board. Either this means of protest or court action appear likely.

Paul Rivers, state bureau of school planning, previously recommended the 10-acre minimum, "based on the pattern of national standards." Now Rivers says his department might suggest a smaller site if the Daly City district would cut the size of General Pershing enrollment.

Peirce's note included the statement that the allocations board has the power to overrule the state department of education's earlier recommendation of a minimum of 10 acres.

SF's "meager land" outlook didn't prevent the SF school board from selling a square block of land in the Sunset district Tuesday night at public auction for $417,500.

Jolly Cholly got the word from city hall that the job of head muttmaster was about to be erased.

Seems the dogs will soon go to the county. Or vice versa. Depending on your sentiments.

It was indeed a tearful spectacle as young Galindo bid his family, the wandering hounds and felines a fond adieu.

Threatens Elvis

Bob, a city street department employee before going to the dogs, was a popular personality. The girls got all shook up when he was standing on the corner, heading for a brew (milk shake), just like any other wholesome American boy.

He was graduated from Jeff High last year and thereafter served as an airman apprentice in the naval reserve across the Bay. Weekend warriors, they call 'em.

Brother Jerry is a member of the city police force. Sister Barbara, another city employee, heads the municipal union. The senior Galindos reside at 173 Hillcrest drive.

Time Will Tell

Bob is interested in aviation aerology or electronics. Everything depends on his test scores and behavior. Promises, promises, nothing but promises.

His dog-chasing and cat-hunting capers should prove something of value. Navy brass, all except the men from Annapolis (who know their business), promote faster when they have a municipal dignitary coming up in the ranks. Less mop details and Sunday duty, too.

Meanwhile, the animal problem here is awfully sorry. The four-footers need a full-time keeper. Not county control. It irritates folks when it takes three hours to have somebody round up a lost beagle or lovelorn Siamese.

Ain't So Bad

Of course, the Navy is fairly attractive. See the world, and all that. The experience doesn't hurt anybody. Some of this nation's best men are careerists for Uncle Sam. Small pay and no handshakes. But three squares and a place to flop.

Anchors aweigh, you lads.

And the line forms on the right for those who'd like to fill another municipal vacancy. For a couple of weeks, at least. Real security.

tion of the freeway route along Junipero Serra. Earlier the state indicated the freeway would follow along the present Junipero Serra boulevard and that the state would condemn land on whichever side of the boulevard could be purchased at the cheapest price.

All councilmen learned yesterday was that these plans have been altered, but to what degree still remains up to state engineers.

Booker assured the council that one and perhaps two public hearings would be held next year for benefit of Daly City residents.

THE COUNTY DOES IT AGAIN

By intent or ignorance of the democratic processes county supervisors have failed to include a Daly City resident on the 20-man county charter study committee.

This effrontery to a city of nearly 32,000 population should not go unchallenged.

Residents of the North Coastside should be equally aroused at the complete disregard of their political existence.

Of the 20 members named to the special committee, only four are residents of what could be termed the north county: one Colma delegate, two South San Franciscans and one San Brunan.

The important committee's function will be to review the antiquated 25-year-old county charter and make recommendations for amendments to appear on the June primary election ballot next year.

North county residents have for years objected to their "step-child" role in the governing and the receipt of government services by San Mateo county.

Supervisors had an excellent opportunity to erase some of this feeling by naming a fair number of north county residents to this major committee.

By their arrogant failure to name representatives from Daly City and other north county areas, the supervisors have given more weight to the oft-heard argument that the northern portion of the county is bearing a major share of financing the government without proportionate representation and services.

Instances such as the failure to appoint a Daly City representative to the charter committee have happened far too often to be termed coincidental.

The north county, we are confident, will hold these elected officials accountable for their actions.

The supervisors may not acknowledge the importance of the north county now, but its influence at the polls will not be denied.

DC Bus Driver Earns 'Muni Man Of Month' Title

Cornelius J. Lyons, 120 Brunswick street, 53-year-old bus operator, was announced today as the 81st winner of the "Muni Man of the Month" contest award.

He received the $50 cash prize in the office of Utilities Manager T. N. Bland in San Francisco.

"This popular driver is known for his cheerful courtesy and his personnel record is studded with letters of generous praise for his pleasant disposition and friendly manner since starting with the railway in 1938," Bland said.

Lyons has been driving a bus on the No. 17 Parkmerced line for the past three years and explains his popularity with his passengers by saying, "I guess I just like people and try to treat them like I would like to be treated."

One letter writer stated, "He is a safe driver, and although he will never pass up an intending passenger who is running for his bus, he still maintains his schedule." He has received a Four-Year Safe Driver Award from the National Safety Council.

Lyons is married and has a son and daughter, both married. His idea of relaxing after a day's work is to settle down in his machine shop in his garage and repair motors, radios, clocks, et cetera.

Present at the City Hall ceremony were Charles D. Miller, general manager of the railway; E. B. Sorensen, of Fielder, Sorensen & Davis; Iver C. Larson, of the National Safety Council, and Ralph Strawn, Lyons' division superintendent.

Drunken Driving Laws Make Fines, Jail Mandatory

The long-awaited stronger deterrent to the lethal combination of drinking and driving is embodied in new drunk driving laws, which became effective last week, according to the California Automobile Association.

The provisions call for a minimum mandatory five-day jail term and a fine of not less than $250 without chance of probation or suspension of sentence upon a second or subsequent conviction of the misdemeanor offense of operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor.

These new provisions not only make a jail sentence mandatory, but also require, in addition, a fine of from $250 to $1000. Under the terms of the old law, both jail terms and fines could be suspended by the judge.

"The law also changed the former penalties for felony drunk driving, in which bodily injury occurred. Penalties for conviction of this offense are imprisonment in the state prison for not less than one year nor more than five years or in the county jail for not less than 90 days nor more than one year and by a fine of not less than $250 nor more than $5,000," says the AAA motorists' organization.

Another strengthening of the laws covering felony drunken driving is accomplished by a new provision approaching the problem through the driver's license. A license evidences a person's privilege to operate a motor vehicle upon the highways; its removal, therefore, is a serious loss to an individual. This new provision provides for the permanent revocation of the driver's license of any person who has been convicted a second time within a period of three years of having violated the felony drunk law, Section 501 of the Vehicle Code.

WIA Schedules Skyline Traffic 'Showdown' Meet

Westlake Improvement Association has set October 7 for a showdown meeting of local and state officials to get traffic signals or other means of safety control at the Westmoor and Westridge intersections on Skyline boulevard.

The association's traffic committee, headed by Ed Murphy, last week moved to invite Governor Goodwin Knight, Assemblyman Louis Francis, the state division of highways, and all local educational, religious and civic representatives to the meeting.

The WIA and its committee feel the situation has been neglected by state officials. Conditions at the two intersections have worsened with the opening of Westmoor High and the increase in student traffic across Skyline.

Also invited to the October 7 session will be Dr. Julio Bortolazzo, president of College of San Mateo. The educator will discuss the important junior college bond issue which goes before voters next month. A north county junior college site will be possible if the election passes.

The invaders entered by sawing off a lock and cutting through a window, indicating they were no amateurs at the trade.

LAKE MERCED DISTRICT

56 Units, 1744 Youths Await Community's Biggest Scout Year

By Bill Pengra

The wonderful, wide-eyed world of fun and enthusiasm that grips all boys of Scout age (from 8 to 18) is getting a new start as the opening of school brings renewed activities for Lake Merced-Westlake area units.

Most units, according to Jack Hurt, district scout executive, are being reactivated this week if they have not maintained some type of meeting and camping program during summer. Approximately 1744 youths in 56 units were participating in the program.

Plans for the biggest Scouting year ever were began at the district's full committee meeting last week with chairman Al Beerbower presiding. Hurt showed a film strip for the benefit of new adults working on the program, outlining the principles behind having adequate volunteer help to backstop the constantly changing adult leaders of various packs and troops.

Rex Mugar, Deputy Executive from San Francisco Council office, advised an expanded district committee to be accomplished by exposing uninitated adults to benefits of serving America's greatest youth character building program. He urged committeemen to proselyte openly for new manpower for the various committees headed by Beerhower and by Howard Stites, district commissioner.

MacMorris Dow, advancement chairman, listed pending boards of review and courts of honor for advancing Boy Scouts along the Star, Life and Eagle trails. He stressed the need for more men with specialities in the trades, arts, architecture, business and other fields to serve as merit badge counsellors, and advised the wide spread publicizing of the San Francisco Council's nationally renowned Scouting program "Merit Badge" on educational station KQED-TV on Tuesday nights.

Dan Anderson, organization and extension chairman, set new goals for increases in both membership and sponsored units during the coming year.

Stites and activities chairman Bill West briefed the committee on plans for the district's first big fall activity—the Boy Scouts Roundup Rally—to be held at Ocean View playground, Capital and Minerva streets, from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. on Saturday, October 12. Centered on a theme, "Bring a Buddy," the day's recreation games program will be an all-out effort by troops to attract and recruit new members into Boy Scouting. Stites said his group would complete its program before turning full publicity on the event, including visiting and announcing the event in area schools.

Strictly For Veterans

By Grace J. Hill

Public Law 85-104, enacted July 12, has empowered the Veterans Administration to fix "reasonable limits" on charges, fees and discounts imposed by lenders in making GI home loans. As most GI loans now made are discounted by lenders to make up for the low interest rate, VA control may further reduce the traffic in GI home loans, and illustrate more clearly the ineffectiveness of the program to operate successfully under the present unrealistic 4½% interest rate. Korea veterans, today, are getting negligible benefit from VA loan guarantees, due to unattractive interest ceiling.

Veterans who use up GI home loan privileges,, and then must move for business reasons, may use their loan privilege all over again at a new location if VA is relieved of the guarantee on the former home. Veterans who move in connection with retirement, fall in the same category. In some instances, a job shift requiring the veteran to move from one area to another of the same community may also qualify for restoration of GI loan entitlement. Veterans must show that the move is needed to avoid substantial increase in time or cost of going to and from the new job.

Plans are being made to conduct an intensive membership campaign the first of October. All veterans interested should contact the Post and are welcome at all meetings. These are held on the second and fourth Thursdays of each month. Your veterans organizations are designed to help veterans in many ways with information and assistance in the many benefits and problems concerning home loans, insurance, compensation, hospitalization and many other problems. Citizens' Committee Will Help JC Board Find North County Site

The Board of Trustees of the San Mateo Junior College District at the September meeting unanimously authorized the formation of a district-wide citizens advisory committee to study the location of the campus site in northern San Mateo county.

Acquisition of the northern county site will be initiated immediately on the passage of the bond proposal to be submitted to voters of the district on October 15. Superintendent Bortolazzo was instructed to initiate steps to secure representative persons as members of this advisory committee. The master plan for the district anticipates the need for this second campus in the 1960's.

Establishment of an Extended Day class branch at Westmoor high school was acknowledged with appreciation in a letter from Edward D. Morgan, Superintendent of Jefferson Union high school district. The two districts will offer a coordinated educational program for adults for grades 9 through 11, with the College of San Mateo offering the college-level classes and Jefferson offering high school classes.

A report on registration for fall 1957 as of September 11 showed a total of 2957 registrations completed and in process.

Further action included approval of the contracts for inter-campus transportation with Burlingame-San Mateo Transit Lines and the employment of three drivers to transport Half Moon Bay and Sharp Park students in college-owned station wagons. Also approved was payment of $100 a month rental towards the $175 monthly rental of St. Andrews Lutheran Church facilities for the Cooperative Nursery School, which is a part of the Extended Day Division program.

Demolition of the fire-destroyed gymnasium on Second avenue was reported as completed and necessary work for safety and appearance completion was authorized.

Further business included employment of five non-certificated personnel, of Mrs. Susan P. Hanenberger as teacher in cosmetology, and authorization of Wayne Harter as a student teacher from Stanford University.

The superintendent's report included emphasis on fire prevention measures being stringently enforced at Coyote Point campus where substandard wooden buildings limited water supply, and crowded enrollment exists.

Application for re-newal of accreditation with the Western College Association was approved, in preparation for the visit of the accreditation team scheduled for November 11, 12 and 13.

'FEW PERSONS QUIT JOBS JUST TO COLLECT SOCIAL SECURITY'

"Our latest local figures show that the great majority of full-time workers retire because they are in ill health or because they have lost their jobs. Few people in San Francisco are retiring from full-time work to collect social security payments," Mrs. Mercia Leton Kahn, manager of the San Francisco (Mission) social security district office said today.

Under the Social Security Act, persons who continue working and earning over $1200 per year are not eligible to receive their full social security benefits. Since in almost every case a person's income is sharply reduced when he retires, social security benefits were designed to partially replace this lost income. When the law was passed, it was thought better to pay more adequate benefits to those whose working days were over than to spread the money thinner by also paying benefits to men over 65, or to women over 62, who were still working and who had suffered no substantial loss of income.

Mrs. Kahn reminded those who intend to work part time after applying for old-age insurance benefits to get full information at their nearest social security office as to how their earnings might affect their benefits. Substantial earnings could mean the loss of some if not all their benefits. However, after one reaches age 72 there is no longer any restriction upon his earnings. This is particularly important to the self-employed, many of whom never retire and otherwise might never receive any return on their contributions.

"The retirement test is part of the basic philosophy of social insurance" Mrs. Kahn concluded, "as it not only prevents excessive drains on the old-age and survivors insurance trust fund but also serves to guarantee that those most likely to need some replacement of lost income receive it."

The San Francisco (Mission) social security office is located at 2747 Mission street.

CSM RALLY ALUMNI BEHIND BOND PASSAGE

Rallying all former College of San Mateo students to the aid of the $5,900,000 bond issue scheduled to go before the school district's voters on October 15, Alumni Association president R. L. Garibaldi of Burlingame has scheduled a meeting for 8 p.m. this Thursday in College House on the Coyote Point campus.

"A special invitation goes out to all former students, regardless of whether they are members of our association or not," says Garibaldi, who served as student body president over 20 years ago and heads up a group of active alumni covering a period of 30 years. "We would like to see every appreciative former student at this meeting so that we may give a sound demonstration of our readiness to aid the College wherever and whenever we can."

Dr. Julio Bortolazzo, president of the college, and Miss Ada Beveridge, long-time instructor and co-ordinator of college - community relations, will be on hand to present the facts on the urgency of the October 15 proposal and answer questions.

N. Gray Firm's New Chapel Has Birthday

Tuesday, September 17, marked the first anniversary of N. Gray and Company's new chapel at 19th avenue and Sargent street in San Francisco.

Commenting on the occasion, Kendrick W. Miller, president of the 107-year-old firm of funeral directors said, "We are very pleased with the reception our new chapel has received. We selected this area for our new location believing that there was a need for more funeral service facilities in this fast-growing section of San Francisco. The results of our first year of operation have amply confirmed our belief."

FOR NEW CHURCH

Lutherans Lift Shovels Sunday

This Sunday will mark the ground-breaking ceremonies for Westlake Lutheran Church. The morning worship service will begin at 10:30 a.m. at Broadmoor community center, where the congregation presently worships. Following the sermon by the pastor, Rev. Charles R. Christian, the congregation will assemble at the church site, on Avalon drive at Westmoor avenue for the formal groundbreaking.

Taking part in the service will be John Yambert, chairman of the building committee; Kenneth Berven, president of the congregation, and the pastor. U. R. Kendree of the Henry Doelger firm will bring a greeting.

Construction of the church unit will begin immediately. The contractor is G. J. Elkinton and Sons firm of Sausalito.

The church unit has been designed by architect Roger Lee of Berkeley, who recently had some of his work featured in Time magazine. The building is contemporary in design. It will be constructed of redwood, both exterior and interior. The use of a large amount of glass will give an expansive appearance to the building.

The building is the first unit of a total plot layout that will include future educational units and a main sanctuary. Even though it is only the first unit of the total plan, it will be worshipful and adequate for present and growing needs. The building will consist of a main fellowship hall chapel, which will seat 225 persons, a separate educational unit for the needs of the Sunday school, a kitchen, and two church offices.

Westlake Lutheran congregation was organized on January 13 this year. Under the guidance of the Home Mission department of the Evangelical Lutheran church, the congregation has moved ahead rapidly with it building plans. A plan of total financing from the Evangelical Lutheran Church has already made possible the purchase of the parsonage, located at 87 Ocean Grove avenue, and the two-acre church site located at Avalon and Westmoor.

The Evangelical Lutheran Church Synod, with it headquarters in Minneapolis, Minnesota, is one of the fastest growing Protestant bodies in America. It is establishing new congregations, of which Westlake Lutheran is an example, at the rate of one every nine days.

The congregation extends a sincere invitation to the public to attend the groundbreaking services and its regular worship services and Sunday school. The temporary meeting place, Broadmoor community center, is located on White street off 87th. Sunday school meets at 9:15 a.m., and the worship service is held at 10:30 a.m.

Further information about the congregation may be had by contacting Pastor Charles R. Christian, PL 6-4373.

The architect's drawing of the new church unit will appear in next week's TIMES.

EVANGELISM Mission of Lutheran Church of Our Savior is headed by Mr. and Mrs. Edison Quick. The mission will be held October 13 through 17. Members of the church will make calls at homes of non church-goers during the mission.

DOORS OPEN FRIDAY FOR OLPH FESTIVAL FETING ANNIVERSARY

This Friday at 7 p.m. the doors to the gala three-day festival will open in the school auditorium of Our Lady of Perpetual Help church at 80 Wellington avenue. School days, with the emphasis on the tenth aniversary of the school's opening, will be the theme. All week, John Muller and his crew have been busy erecting booths and a corps of decorators, under the direction of Mr. George Calegari, general chairman, have been busy transforming the hall into an atmosphere of fun and entertainment for all ages.

The festival committee will be on the lookout for the largest family present on Friday night, "Family Night," as well as for the parents of the youngest baby. The fortunate family will receive many gifts. Harry Hettel, chairman for the children's booths, will have many interesting games for the small fry and will be assisted by Mrs. Harry Hettel, Mr. and Mrs. Joel Cook, Olin Craig, Ed Ciabattari, Stanley White and Frank Christensen.

In this fast growing community, newcomers are often overlooked until they are practically oldtimers, but the festival committee is extending a welcoming hand to newcomers in the parish by setting aside Saturday night as a special "Newcomers Night." Special prizes will be awarded to the latest arrivals in the community. The committee is also seeking the newest bride and groom in order to present the couple with a somewhat belated wedding gift.

The always popular "apron booth" will be headed by Mrs. Esther Nolan, assisted by Lorraine Rollandi, Pauline De Fanti, Agnes Kollman, Rose Kirstine, Elsie Thomsen, Cleo Rodriguez, Ann Pearson and Lorraine Mahoney.

No festival would be complete without a "ham and bacon" booth and Mike Cubic, assisted by Mrs. Cubic and Mr. and Mrs. Reno Barsotti, will have charge of this section.

Favorites

"Chocolate covered bananas seem to be everyone's favorite and William Whalen will have them available, as well as bags of popcorn to munch on while looking over the many attractions, such as the plant booth, chairmanned by Mrs. Peter Lofrano. Garden lovers will find many beautiful plants to add to their collections," the committee said.

Pizza lovers will be able to find their favorite food at Marie Weeden's snack bar.

Mrs. Alice Gonzales, assisted by Virginia Stanley, Lorraine Mignault, Dorothy Peterson, Helen Fredricks, Dorothy Colman and Evelyn Mosman, will operate the always popular doll booth.

The festival will open at 12:30 p.m. on Saturday and continue through the evening.

Sunday the festival will open at 9 a.m. with "Coffee and" to be served after the Masses and all through the morning and a complete ham dinner will be offered from 4:30 to 8 p.m., with Mrs. William Drury and Mrs. Edwin Kollman in charge.

Honor "Old Timers"

Sunday night is "Old Timers" night and the committee will honor the oldest parishioners with a prize. Members of the first graduating class in the new school will also be honored and research is being conducted to locate the oldest O.L.P.H. graduate.

"Charles Gugino and Emil Senkir are chairmen for the panda booth and all organizations in the parish are actively participating in an effort to make the tenth reunion festival of Our Lady of Perpetual Help church one to be long remembered.

"Admssion is free and the public is invited to come and help celebrate ten successful years," the committee concluded.

B'moor Honors Rev. Tweedie At Installation

The formal installation of the new minister of Broadmoor Presbyterian Church will take place this Sunday afternoon at a special 3:30 o'clock service.

Rev. Herbert C. Tweedie received the official "call" at the meeting of San Francisco Presbytery in Berkeley, September 10, and he was released from his pastorate in Roseville, California, to enter service in Broadmoor.

In announcing his installation plans, he said, "The Tweedie family of ministers will be well represented by my father, Rev. Herbert W. Tweedie, and my brother, Rev. Tom Tweedie, both of Sacramento."

Tweedie's father recently retired in Sacramento after 40 years as a Presbyterian minister. Tom Tweedie is presently minister of education at Fremont Presbyterian Church in Sacramento.

Commencing at 3:30 p.m., Rev. Fred Trevitt, moderator of Presbytery, and minister of the High Street Church in Oakland, will deliver the invocation and ask "the constitutional question." The sermon will be presented by Rev. Ronald White, General Presbyter of the North Area. Rev. Tom Tweedie will give the scripture lesson.

Dr. White's associate, Rev. John McAulay, will formally install Mr. Tweedie as minister, following which two "charges of responsibility" will be made. First, his father will charge him with his duties as an installed minister of the gospel. The congregation of the church itself will be charged with their obligations to their pastor by Rev. William Harberts. Dr. Harberts served for six months as interim-pastor before Tweedie was called to the pulpit.

The Broadmoor Church choir will present special music, under the leadership of organist—director Delmar Severy. He is well-known locally as the director of the famed choral group, "The Men of Note."

Child care will be available during the service under Mrs. Alma Wittig.

Immediately following Tweedie's installation, a brief reception with refreshments will be served by the Women's Association in the social hall.

Guilbert Cites Church's Origin At St. Martin's

Briefly outlining the Episcopal church's history since its origin in the 16th century English Protestant Reformation, the Rev. Canon Charles M. Guilbert, rector of St. Clement's church, Berkeley, entertained the women's auxiliary of St. Martin's Episcopal church with a talk Thursday evening on past and present church traditions in the United States.

Elections of bishops, which will occur in the Diocese of California early next year, was described as a democratic process in which both clergy and laity have votes. A special election convention will meet next month. Although over 50 candidates have already been named, additional nominations from the floor will be heard. The clergyman elected to succeed the Rt. Rev. Karl Morgan Block, retiring in December, 1958, must be approved by the national House of Bishops. He will then be named Bishop Coadjutor, working with Bishop Block until the latter's retirement, and will select a suffragan bishop to succeed the Rt. Rev. Henry L. Shires, who will also retire next year.

Mrs. Richard T. Phillips, St. Martin's auxiliary president, conducted the business meeting, called for reports from Mrs. D. R. Wainwright, secretary, Mrs. Frank Specht, Jr., treasurer, and Mrs. Walter F. Michels, bazaar chairman, and welcomed Mrs. Charles M. Guilbert as a guest. Mrs. Chester Mattison, program chairman, introduced Canon Guilbert and announced a discussion of St. Margaret's house, the Berkeley training center for women church workers, for the next meeting, October 10.

Charles Willen, gate chairman, has announced that the gates will open at 11 o'clock and the swimming pool will open at the same time. The first door prize will be a clock radio, with many other valuable prizes being awarded at 4 o'clock when names will be drawn.

Signups are now being taken for the annual "Liniment World Series," with Robert White accepting the names for one team and Gene Luttringer "scouting" for the opposition. A case of beer will be awarded the winning team.

Stopping Time

No matter how good the brakes on your car are, it still takes you about three-quarters of a second to get your foot on the brake pedal when you see danger. In this time your car travels thirty-three feet if you're going thirty miles an hour. The California State Automobile Association urges you to allow an adequate margin for safety.

BELONGING TO THE HEART

By Joan Taylor

The obsolete meaning for "cordiality" is anything belonging to the heart. It is regretful that so lovely a meaning should become obsolete, and it might be a good idea to submit the word to Dr. Evans and his panel—for surely 'cordiality" should regain its old meaning.

Belonging to the heart brings to mind many things—the most cordial of moods, the warmest of occasions,—when we have received a "cordial welcome" anywhere we know that the welcome has come from the heart;—and when we read "Cordially Yours" on the signature of a letter we know that the writer has struck a chord of warmth within us.

Cordiality is especially a tradition on holidays—when friendship is mingled with feasting and festivity. The warm cheery fire and the good food make us all feel cordial toward each other. And it is especially at these times that we bring out a steaming pot of richly brewed "Schilling Coffee." For "Schilling Coffee" is an American tradition where good folks gather, setting the mood for a cheering and invigorating interlude,—a warm regard for our friends,—a mood belonging to the heart.

Parents are reminded of the first Unit meeting, September 24 at 7:30 p.m., in the Woodrow Wilson multi-use room.

COLLEGE COURSE HERE

Braille School Adults Make Books For Blind

For the first time in the Colma-Daly City area, the College of San Mateo is offering a class in Braille Transcription.

A resource class for the blind children of northern San Mateo county has been established at the Woodrow Wilson school here. This makes it possible for the children to live at home and to go to a local school. Here they will study with sighted classmates at their own grade level. A resource teacher, who has been specially trained, will aid them in learning braille and later typing.

Women who learn how to transcribe books into braille can help prepare the books these children will be reading from next year.

Have you always been fascinated by codes? Do you enjoy acquiring a new skill? Do you like to work with your hands? Have you been a typist? An illustrator?

Braille transcribing can be a challenging hobby—a worthwhile use for spare time.

The class will meet every Tuesday morning from 9:30-11:30 at the Broadmoor recreation center in Colma. The college registration fee is $1. Braille slate, stylus and textbook are $5. Former braillists are invited to attend and participate in review drills, assignments, and work toward Library of Congress certification.

Women who are interested in lettering, in constructing 3-D books from materials with tactile appeal and in helping with binding and other activities in connection with braille book making are welcome.

The class will meet Tuesday mornings, not Wednesday as originally announced in the Extended Day Division schedule, at the Broadmoor Recreation Center, 87th and White in Colma. Mrs. H. J. Brudno is the instructor.

The Extended Day Division is also scheduling classes at the Westmoor High this fall for the first time. These classes include General Mathematics, General Psychology, Industrial Engineering Methods, Organization for Management, and Techniques of Supervision.

A complete schedule of classes is available from the Office of the Extended Day Division of the College of San Mateo by calling DI 2-1421.

Two For Tonight

By Leonore Brewer

In eleventh century Persia there lived an astronomer and mathematician known as Omar Khayyam. Although responsible for a new calendar, he'd probably have been forgotten if he hadn't written a number of quatrains known as "The Rubaiyat," and if some eight centuries later an Englishman named FitzGerald hadn't translated them.

Paramount Producer Frank Freeman, Jr. saw possibilities in the life of this Persian poet, and the end result in Vista-Vision and Technicolor can be seen on the screen of the Paramount Theater. It is an obviously expensive, flaming opus, complete with dancing girls, palace intrigue, mysterious assassins and a love story on which to string the better-known quatrains.

Starring Cornel Wilde as Omar with Michael Rennie, Debra Paget and Raymond Massey in important roles, "Omar Khayyam" is an extravagent spectacle which rides high wide and handsome across the screen, cramming so much action, color and violence into its approximately two hours' running time that the audience may feel overly stuffed with the Persian equivalent of Turkish delight.

Bright Popular Success

The poetry: from another day mingles smoothly with the matter-of-fact dialogue which is inescapably Twentieth Century Hollywood with the exception of "A Book of verses - - -." The familiarity of these lines demanded they be included while at the same time made them sound slightly ridiculous.

Omar" has all the ingredients to become that bright popular success that impels a producer to try innumerable variations on the original theme. We can see the marquee now: "The Return of Omar Khayyam," "Omar Khayyam Rides Again, followed closely by "Son of Omar Khayyam." We hope Producer Freeman remembers what Omar said: "The Flower that once has blown for ever dies."

Emall World

We were privileged to attend a special screening of "Omar," followed by a delicious buffet supper at — you guessed it — Omar Khayyam's.

During the evening we had the opportunity to chat with Producer Freeman and Tony MacLaine also from the Studio, who have been traveling around the country to introduce the film at various strategic locations. We wish we had the space to relate some of the many interesting anecdotes they told, and in particular to tell you about our conversation with Mr. MacLaine.

Regarding the latter all we can say is that it's a small world. It really is.

Ram Tales

by Ron Bosc

Well, school finally started last Tuesday. Arriving around 8 o'clock, everyone was getting acquainted again after three months of vacation. All piled into the gym for the assembly and at 8:15 it began. Of course, this wouldn't have had come about without the help of the big brothers (seniors) in leading the new arrivals (freshman) into the gym.

The assembly was opened by our president, Bucky Hyers, with the pledge of allegiance and the presentation of our school pennant to our principal, Glenn South. Mr. South then welcomed us to our new school, and he told us that people from all over Europe, Japan and the United States have been coming to see our building.

The executive board was introduced with their faculty advisor, Mr. Panogoulias; Mr. Kollman, dean of boys; and Miss Riggs, dean of girls, who explained opening day procedures.

The student body plans to sell many new items this year, such as pennants, rooter caps, book covers, student body cards, decals, pom poms, and pens with our home varsity football games on them to build up our student body fund.

It looks as if we'll be having a pretty good football team this year, too. Our first game will be Willow Glen. So look out you southerners!

The executive board has been invited to appear on Charley Stern's Bandstand, radio station KGO, and on television's Rock'n Rally, a KPIX special.

There isn't much doing in school clubs yet, although they are starting to meet.

There will be a dance this Friday, called "Rams Rock." It's a welcome dance and tickets are 50 cents. Student body card holders will be admitted free.

IN RECOGNITION of outstanding achievements in the insurance field, Agent Errol Dillon of 6178 Mission street, Daly City, was hosted by Farmers Insurance Group August 24 through 27. at its Topper club convention in Victoria, British Columbia. Military Academy Candidates Must File By Oct. 12

Congressman J. Arthur Younger today announced that preliminary examinations for the Air Force Academy, Naval Academy, West Point and the Merchant Marine Academy at King's Point will be held on November 19. Deadline for filing applications is October 12.

Young men who graduate from high school next June are eligible to take the examination.

For the Air Force Academy, only 10 boys can be nominated by Younger from San Mateo County to take the test; for the other academies any number may take the examination.

Boys interested should apply in person or write to J. Arthur Younger, M. C., 23 2nd Avenue, San Mateo, and an application blank will be provided.

Because there will be four appointments available at Annapolis next year, Younger urged more applicants for the Naval Academy.

The examination will be given at Redwood City.

Unfurl Red Tape To Collect $256 From U. S. Army

The North San Mateo County Sanitation district has lowered its "artillery" on the U. S. Army AAA gun site on Skyline boulevard to collect $256 the district claims Uncle Sam owes for sewage service.

Actually, it was an oversight. The gun site land has been receiving sanitation service for years under a $1 contract made with the city before the district was created.

Now the district seeks to collect the $256 bill which has accumulated over several years.

Del Wilson, sanitation district director, visited Sacramento this week in an attempt to straighten out the matter.

In addition to discussing the "delinquent" bill Monday, directors received maps from Michael Callan on his proposed 381-unit apartment development.

Jail 5 SF Boys For 'Lipstick Burglary' Here

The lipstick-smearing vandals who pulled a $464 burglary at a Westlake home last month are awaiting the consequences at Hillcrest juvenile home.

Inspector Bruno Conci cracked the case late last week with the arrest of five San Francisco youths from the Crocker-Amazon district.

Police were stymied at first because there was no evidence the raid was staged by Daly City juveniles. After exhaustive talks with the victimized householder, Edward Ryan, of 528 North Mayfair, Conci got on the right track. It seems the Ryans had lived in the Crocker-Amazon district and knew two of the boys involved.

The two youths admitted they knew the Ryans were going on vacation. The pair invaded the Westlake home, then called their buddies for a real "party."

Stolen were jewelry, clothing and other personal property. Some of it has been recovered, Conci said.

The culprits completely ransacked the residence's six rooms, writing lipstick messages throughout the house.

Jeff High 'Punk' Attacks Youth, 18

A 17-year-old Jeff High tenth grader Thursday morning was hurried to Hillcrest juvenile home after he savagely beat another youth here.

Victim of the assault was Michael Highman, 18, a magazine salesman from Rockaway Beach.

Highman said his assailant began to beat him with his fists and kicked him several times "for no apparent reason."

The Coastside youth was treated at Junipero Serra hospital for bruises on the face and leg.

A family feud here Sunday night ended in the arrest of a 25-year-old Daly City housewife for drunkeness.

Officers answered a call at 213 Knowles avenue to find Mrs. Helen Dobbs, an office worker, breaking windows and causing quite a fuss.

She was released on $25 bail to appear in court next week.

Methods Of Manufacture Improved

If the methods of gasoline manufacture had not improved so vastly since 1918, gasoline production in the United States during 1956 would have fallen short of meeting the country's needs by more than 25 billion gallons, according to the National Automobile Club.

The theme will establish the pattern of working for better understanding for the children, school and community, she said.

The PTA executive board held its first meeting August 20th to develop recommendations on a proposed budget. Final approval will be made by the general membership at the first Fall meeting, October 3 at 8 p.m. in the community-use room of the school.

TV and Radio

PERSONALITY SKETCH . . His eyes were bright blue and twinkling . . . "I feel younger at 62 than I did at 20" . . . and he certainly appeared youthful. Possessing a great zest for life and genuine interest in people, here was a man who will always be young—this most distinguished Professor of English at USC, winner of the George Foster Peabody Award, and many many other honors, both in the field of television and literature — one of the country's leading educators, Dr. Frank C. Baxter.

He was in town to meet the press and discuss his new role as host and narrator on "Telephone Time" (KGO-TV, Tuesdays, 9:30 p.m.), the fine dramatic series based on true facts and covering subjects in the fields of history, philosophy, science, sociology and the arts. Previously, Dr. Baxter had appeared as "Dr. Research" in the Bell System science series, which included "Our Mr. Sun." and "Hemo the Magnificent," and he will appear in "The Strange Case of the Cosmic Rays" on October 25.

When Dr. Baxter appears on television he is extremely relaxed, almost casual. He really has the true feel of television and talks directly to viewers. We asked him how he did this so skillfully, and he said he talks to the people on the set. Whatever his method, he certainly makes any subject he discusses come alive, and holds the interest of his audience.

With his brilliant mind and magnetic charm, it is obvious why students clamor to take his college courses. It is also obvious why he is so successful on television. A truly great man, he hasn't lost his warmth and human understanding. It is men like Dr. Baxter who prove how really exciting television can be.

"SCIENCE IN ACTION" does it again . . . . Almost in need of a separate room at the Academy to hold all the awards and citations received during the past years, the outstanding television show "Science in Action" (KRON-TV, Mon. 7 p.m.) collected another one. A Silver Medal Award was presented by the California State Fair to KRON-TV and the California Academy of Sciences for the Channel 4 series, the only TV award in Northern California. Featuring capable Dr. Earl S. Herald of Westlake as host, the program this week begins its seventh season on the TV lanes.

The United States-Canadian border consists of 1749 miles on land and 2237 miles of water.

McGrath, Matisi Gun Squads For Debuts

Inexperienced Forwards Worry Jeff Grid Boss, But Backs Are Strong

Although five-sevenths of his line is manned by lads who lack much battle experience, Coach Joe McGrath is perked up with the usual optimism as his eager Indians await next Friday's lid-lifter here with Encinal High.

Joe, who lost 10 first stringers via graduation, should know after the debut if his line has the goods to make the locals dangerous in Peninsula League action.

Encinal, a considerable power in East Bay competion, will give the Indians a tough preview.

Good Backs, Ends

McGrath couldn't be better off, backfield-wise. And he's two-deep in good ends. But he's strength-shy from tackle-to-tackle, using boys who haven't seen much combat.

Paul Tapia, a gambling senior whose passing was never better, inherits a yeoman job at quarterback. Crippled by injuries, the Indians in '56 were dangerous (despite their record) as long as Paul was in there pitching.

The Indians will be fast, with first-string halfback probables senior Sonny Martinez and soph Art Banos backed up by Bill McCormick, John Margaroni, Ted Sailor and Ron Molina.

Martinez owns a 10-flat 100 in the PAL and he moves like a rabbit.

Leaping Lena

Pat Lena, a rugged senior, bears all-league watching at fullback. The kid can run 'em down as well as run around the enemy. He's understudied by Herb Dirks, another senior.

Bob Berry, 160, a senior, and junior Pete Garcia, 175, a sand-out with the frosh-sophs, have just about nailed down starting end duty.

Behind them and equally capable are Gary Ryan, 155, and Barry Haanen, 170, two more seniors. Ryan and Berry saw limited action last year, concentrating most of their labors on defense. Haanen was inactive as a junior.

Dunsford Cinch

Only Neil Dunsford, 170-pound senior, appeared to have his job guaranteed in McGrath's question mark forward wall. Neil will open at right guard.

One-two for the left guard slot are Dwayne Cook, 185, and Dennis Bucher, 170, both seniors. Cook saw some action a year ago.

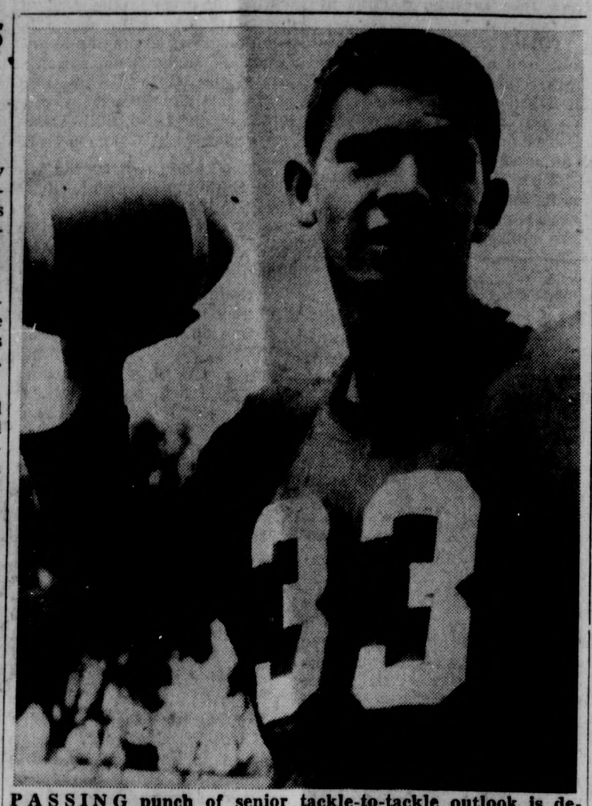
Two juniors, Buzzsew Schuetz, 165, and John Crane, 160, are going full throttle for the taskle slots. Pete Rogerson, 185-pound senior, and Bob Neilson, a strong soph at 175, are on their heels.

Sophomore Center

McGrath thinks he has a real prospect at center in Bill Dixon, 185 pounds of sophomore who likes the rough stuff. Tom Coop, 200-pound junior, is pushing Dixon for the post.

Juniors Jerry Kennedy, 155, a converted fullback, and Vic Lewkowitz, 150, will spell Tapia at quarterback if the key senior has any trouble.

Paul has his work well planned for him. He should be passing more than he did last season. His targets are talented. And with an inexperienced line, the Indians don't figure to move the ball much up the middle.



PASSING punch of senior Paul Tapia will feature Jeff High's attack this fall in Peninsula League action. Joe McGrath's backs and ends are speedy and promising, but the tackle-to-tackle outlook is decidedly weak with newcomers filling the slots. Tapia and Hillsdale's Keith Mattos should be the best aerialists in the loop. THE RECORD photo

Honeywell Hurt In Tribe Scrum

Jim Honeywell, Jeff's all-everything footballer from Colma, has been sidelined by a shoulder separation.

Stanford publicist Don Liebendorfer writes that im, a sophomore down on the farm, will be inactive about two more weeks.

"Honeywell impressed Chuck Taylor very much before he was injured," Liebendorfer noted. "He expects a lot from Jim the next three years."

The Colma fullback was playing behind starter Lou Valli in a scrimmage when the mishap occurred.

Chamber Picks Silverado Site For Golf Meet

Chamber of Commerce's fall golf tournament and end-of-summer outing will be held on Thursday, September 26, at the Silverado Country Club near Napa.

Competition will be held in four flights, according to Peter J. Markovich, secretary-manager.

Persons wishing to participate should contact Markovich or chamber members immediately in order to assure transportation. All residents are eligible.

One bus, capacity 45, is scheduled to leave the Westlake shopping center at 9 a.m. on September 26. Several members will use private transportation. Another bus will be chartered if response is sufficient.

Markovich can be contacted at PL 5-2262.

Protest Lodged Against $100 Fee For Coin Devices

A protest against Daly City's new $100 annual fee for coin-operated amusement devices was filed Wednesday by the Vendomatic company.

The firm said that such games as shuffle bowl, shuffleboard and arcade equipment should not be taxed as stiff as pinball machines.

Councilman Sanford Vickers agreed with the complaint, claiming that the "ordinance doesn't properly define various types of devices."

The council agreed to consider the protest at a later date. The ordinance establishing the fees takes effect this month.

DC Police Veteran Back From Hospital

Dean Wood, veteran Daly City police sergeant, is recovering from an illness which hospitalized him for two weeks in San Francisco.

Wood, 57, lives at 39 Mission circle. He has been on the force here since 1944.

Pushing

If your car is equipped with automatic transmission and the engine fails to start for any reason, do not have the car pushed without first checking your owners manual or with a reliable garage. The California State Automobile Association says that some types of automatic transmissions may be damaged if the car is pushed incorrectly.

2nd Shutout Shoots Val's Atop Pin Loop

Like Old Man River, Val's Redwood Room rolled along Tuesday night in the second week of DC-Colma Bowling League play.

Val's crew grabbed first place by goose-egging McGahey & Olson. The shutout sank the losers to the bottom of the 16-team race.

Carmona Chemical made its record 5-1 with a split over DC Cleaners.

Defending champ, Brisbane Market, and Giannini Market pulled up to 4-2 marks. The baysiders scored 2-1 over Jack's Inn, while the meat-grinders blanked Joe's Nursery.

Al Wright of Val's claimed high series for the evening wtih a 570 tally on games of 190-208-172. Teammates Hern Kalinin and Paul Purpora posted series of 555 and 554, respectively.

Top individual feat was Pat Bollentini's 230 third game for the 101 Club. His squad split-verdicted Lou Amrofell. The latter contingent had team high game with a 951 total. Team high series was notched by Val's with 2700.

In other matches, 2-1 winners were Vince & Fred over United Meats, Edisco over Prudential, and Globe Tavern over Thur Meat.

Potluck Banquet Honors All-Conquering Drug 9

Thirteen baseball champs received trophies for winning the San Francisco "D" League and the Daly City Junior League at Garden Village School recently after a pot luck dinner given by their parents.

Daly City Drugs won both leagues without a loss, carrying only 12 players for the Saturday league and 13 on Sundays. Lowell Creighton, club manager, presented the Saturday "D" League trophies, and Harry Krohn, club coach, presented the Sunday prizes.

The team record was reviewed—and many thought it might be a "record," for the season mark was 37 wins, 4 losses and one tie, for a percentage of .882. Each of the four losses was to a team in an older age bracket, and several wins were against the same competition.

Three starting pitchers carried the load, Billy Ludwigsen with 11 wins, 1 loss; Barry Krohn, 9—1, and Terry Christman, 15—2. The team batting average was .313, Christman leading with a .439. Mike O'Leary was runner up with a 414, and he led the team with six triples.

After presenting the trophies (small statues of ball players), Creighton said, "This is the best team I have ever had, and I know we won because we didn't have any particular star, but played each game as a team. Several times we had to come from behind, and the spirit was always good."

Tom Bournellis, sponsor of the Daly City Drugs, was presented with a team picture autographed by all the players, as well as a plaque. The Creighton-Krohn kids will now tackle school. They hope to be together again next year to try for another championship. Or two?

Rams May 'Surprise,' Says Coach

Gunned by seven strong seniors, Westmoor's Rams may provide a few surprises when they open their 1957 football campaign next Friday afternoon at Willow Glen.

Head man Pete Matisi, the new arrival out of USF, is bubbling with enthusiasm.

"We've got a good first eleven . . . . big kids with good speed and as eager as any squad I've coached," he beamed.

First Division?

"We don't expect to win the PAL title first time out, but don't be surprised if we're knocking on the door."

Capuchino and Burlngame, in that order, are the paperweight choices to rule the loop. Paul Baldwin's San Bruno eleven, it's rumored, is being touted as the "team of the year" in Northern California.

Jeff, rebuilding but weak in the line, and Westmoor, the league's newcomer, are tabbed as also rans. The bounce of the football and that immeasurable "spirit" can upset the dope, however.

Giant Tackles

Matisi is mighty high on his line, a hefty unit anchored by two king size and swith tackles. Strong at these posts are Jim Lansing, 215-pound junior, and transfer Mike Abrahamson, 220, out for his final season. Mike played ball in Minnesota and he's real tough, Matisi says.

Senior Bob Simi, 210, and junior Paul Giomi, 160, will open at the guards.

Two more returnees, both seniors, Ray West, 165, and Sid Swanson, 175, will handle the end assignments.

Marty Knedel, 185, and Bob Roller, 175, are staging a personal war for the center job. They were juniors last season.

Simmons In Charge

Matisi's conventional T offense, with his emphasis on running, will be triggered by Dave Simmons, 160, a dependable junior quarterback.

Larry Schoenfeldt, a bone-busting 195-pound junior who stands 6-2½, will be at one half, teamed with Leo Wyreck, 155, a senior.

Senior Larry Harper, 175, is ready to roll at fullback.

Matisi is pretty sure of these starters, though the regulars are being pushed hard by some hard-hitting reserves.

Impressing the boss and counted on for much duty are guards Cliff Cushing and Steve Robinson, tackle Bill Nagy, end Bob Woodworth, and backs Rich Hottal, John White and Gary Pederson.

Good Tidings

First serimmage last Saturday convinced Matisi his squad could be a spoiler—for the opposition.

"Our opener next week in San Jose must be rated an even scrap," Matisi said. "Willow Glen isn't a powerhouse, we've heard. If my boys jump off to a good start in that one, who knows? We're going to surprise this season. Wait and see."

Colma Sailor Ends School Down South

William P. Harold Jr., son of William P. Harold, of 35 E. Lake avenue, graduated recently from the Navy's Electrican's Mate School at the U.S. Naval Training Center in San Diego.

During the 14-week course of instruction, students of the Electrican's Mate School study the repair, manufacture, and operation of modern Navy electrical equipment. The curriculm also includes the preparation and use of electrical blueprints and wiring diagrams.

Colma Center Asks Bids For Holidays

Applications are now being accepted for the rental of the Colma community center on New Year's Eve, and throughout the holiday season.

Reservations will be made in order of receipt of applications, with the exception of New Year's Eve, December 31, when the center will be rented to the highest bidder.

No bids can be for less than $20. Bids shold be mailed to Major Calvin Hall, 655 Larchmont drive, Colma, not later tha nNovember 15. Proceeds of the New Year's Eve rental will be used for improvement of the center. The board of the community center reserves the right to reject any and all bids.

Joshua Tree National Mounment was created in 1936 to preserve spectacular and rapidly diminishing Joshua trees and other desert vegetation.

OPTIMISTIC as Daly City's Westmoor High embarks on its first Peninsula League campaign are these Ram pigskin coaches. Left to right: Will Stensland (Santa Barbara State), Floyd Gonella (San Francisco State), head varsity coach Pete Matisi (USF), and Rod Losberger (California). Stensland and Gonella are working with the varsity and jayvees. Losberger guides the Westmoor freshmen. The Ram varsity lifts the lid next week against Willow Glen at San Jose in a practice game. OUTBOARD CLASSIC

Lake Merced Hosts Big Regatta Sunday

California's largest outboard racing spectacle — the seventh annual Lake Merced Regatta—is expected to attract a crowd of 30,000 to Lake Merced's shores this Sunday.

Some 160 contestants, among them the best in the nation, will perform in the splashing events. Points will be counted toward national championship ratings.

Public is invited to be on hand at 9:30 a.m. to inspect all boats and equipment "in the pits." The top drivers and their mechanics will answer all questions posted.

Queen Christine Paul will drop the starting flag at 10:30., setting off a full afternoon of entertainment.

The big show will be preceded Saturday morning at 9:30 o'clock by a parade of more than 100 boats, coming down Market and Mission streets in San Francisco and finishing at Geneva avenue.

The famous Bardahl drill team, featuring six boats performing intricate maneuvers, will head Sunday's program. These drivers are perfectionists at boat handling.

Ward Angilley, Daly City's one and only national outboard champ, leads a star-studded list of outstanding drivers.

The Valley speed-demon, Chuck Parsons from Lodi, defending his National F-racing runabout championship for the first time this season, will compete against Bob Ziemer of Oakland, Al Brooks of Stockton, and the racing Carsons, a father and son team. The former commodore of the Mariposa Boat Club, Ernie Viola, after tough luck in the last April race, hopes to be the first to see the checkered flag.

Manuel Carnakis, former mayor of Bakersfield, and Lon Stevens, both National champions in C-service runabout and the C-racing runabout class, will flash speeds of over 60 m.p.h.

In a 12-boat race, Ronnie Radicali, the 17-year old from S.F. who is already a veteran of six years, will be driving Henry Wagner's world champion C-service hydro against such drivers as Angilley, a 30-year veteran of outboard racing and holder of many U.S. trophies, and Steve Gotelli, winner of the famous flip-trophy.

DAREDEVIL DAVE IN SPRINT RACE NEAR VALLEY JO

Dave Holliday, versatile Daly City racing driver, will compete in the 100-lap Pacific Coast championship sprint car race at West Coast Speedway, near Vallejo, Sunday afternoon.

Holliday, who once played professional football, is equally at home in sprint car or midget competition. The Daly City veteran finished third in a 100-mile midget event in San Jose last Sunday and is expected to finish near the front of the sprint car pack in the championship race.

Time trials will start at 1 p.m. A 2 p.m. trophy dash and four heats will precede the 100-lapper.

Lions Will Roar In Golf Tourney With Coastsiders

DC-Colma Lions will be out for revenge on Thursday, October 3, when they tangle with the Coastside Lions in the annual golf skirmish on the Sharp Park lawns.

Slamming Sam Felser, who stroked his way to individual honors last year, is the odds-on favorite this time. The Coastsiders dumped the DC-Colma contingent in team play, however.

The perpetual trophy and other award presentations will be made at a dinner in Nick's Rockaway Cafe by the beautiful sea.

Felser will answer all questions on the tourney at PL 4321.
